HANCOCK COUNTY— Cindy Schack, the Executive Director of the Hancock County Economic Development Corporation has been awarded a full scholarship to attend the Economic Development Institute(OU-EDI) classes at the University of Oklahoma in April. The Institute is a three-session program, each one week long, which provides a broad spectrum of advanced education for the economic development professional and is accredited by the International Economic Development Council. Schack will be completing her third and final week of classroom instruction. More than 3,200 economic development professionals have graduated from the institute which manages 600 new enrollments annually

OU-EDI staff member, LaDene Bowen of the Institute of Decision Makers at UNI, had this to say about Schack: “Cindy is an ambitious, bright and energetic and she has found her niche in economic development. Becoming the Executive Director of HCEDC has allowed her many strengths to be demonstrated. She is technologically competent and she has shown innovation and resourcefulness accomplishing her objectives for the HCEDC.”
